

DIY Room Décor: Decoupage Jewelry Holder

with Courtney Cerruti

If your jewelry collection is in need of some organization, this class will help set you straight. Courtney Cerruti shares a quick and easy idea for a jewelry hanger that utilizes decoupage and a little bit of hardware. Courtney shows you how to properly apply Mod Podge to adhere pretty paper to a wooden placard, and how to paint the beveled edges with a foam brush. After that, install some simple hanging hardware and you'll be ready to display your necklaces, bracelets, earrings and rings.

DIY Room Décor: Decoupage Jewelry Holder

with Courtney Cerruti

You Will Learn:

- How to adhere paper to wood with Mod Podge
- How to paint beveled edges
- How to attach a hanging bracket
- How to attach hanging hooks

Tools and Materials:

- Wooden plaque with beveled edge
- Text-weight decorative paper (scrapbooking paper works great)
- Hammer
- Pencil
- Ruler
- Acrylic craft paint (Courtney uses FolkArt paint in Licorice and Steel Gray)
- Sawtooth bracket (for hanging)
- 3 small screw-in hooks
- Dish for paint
- Two 1" foam brushes
- Scissors
- Mod Podge with matte finish